SPEAKER

A jamsession really speaks

"Let it be" is our leading theme. And that's not the only music we use in this engaging group session on change and innovation. Using music as a high impact and fun metaphor we explore behavior and our ability to listen, understand and team successfully.

Like musicians you will learn how to jam, discover new idea's and how to let go of preconceptions and stale approaches. And yes, I bring my guitar and we will perform together. No worries, you don't need to be a musician, just have an open mind and enjoy the ride!
